I recently came across a program that would help to determine true north for any location. Basically it gave the time when the shadow cast by an object would be due north (the sun always shines, doesn't it?). Well, of course, I lost it and can't seem to find it. Am really too cheap to buy a compass. Anyone know of a landline bbs where I could download this program again? Suggestions on how to save it in the future are not necessary as I am recieving counselling presently! Thanks de John/NS1Z 0005018901 @ mcimail.com

The DSP-93 text is now available on the TAPR Internet server.

Send mail to 'file-request@tapr.org'.

In the message body include: GET /pub/tapr/dsp93.txt

This will get you the complete announcement on the TAPR/AMSAT DSP-93 kit.

You can also get an entire directory of TAPR files with the DIR command.

Help is received by using HELP in the message body.

Cheers - Greg
